2. An invoice will be send to your federation, according to your awarded title (FIDE Trainer = 200 euros * FIDE Instructor = 100 euros * National Instructor = 50 euros * Developmental Instructor = 50 euros).

3. After approval and payment the title certificates, pins and badges will be sent to your federations. It would be advisable to pay directly your title fees by the end of September (see attached FTS-CEV 2017-FIDE Payments). If you face any problems or need more advice, please contact accounts@fide.com.

We have also sent you your Participation Diploma (all in one pdf file - FTS-CAV 2017-Certificate), which you can print-out, by choosing your page.

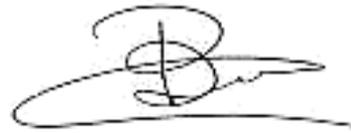

Please forward this letter to your federation officials, as they should be informed on your results.

Once more we would like to thank you for your participation and for your efforts during the Internet - Chess Evolution FIDE Trainers' Seminar.

Dear Sir,

REF: RECOMENDATION LETTER FOR ZAMBIAN CHESS FOUNDATION

Reference is made to the above captioned matter in which the Chess Federation of Zambia (CFZ), being an affiliate of the National Sports Council of Zambia (NSCZ) and the International Chess Federation (FIDE) recommends the Zambian Chess Foundation to be an affiliate of FIDE as an Academy.

The Zambian Chess Foundation (ZCF) is a non-profit making organisation which aims at teaching, developing and promoting chess in schools and vulnerable children.

The Foundation believes that: Chess is an emerging popular game for all ages, race and sex in Zambia but over the years very little has been done in terms of teaching, developing and promoting chess in schools and vulnerable children.

Hence to facilitate chess promotion and development in schools and among the vulnerable children, the Zambian Chess Foundation was duly incorporated pursuant to and in accordance with the provisions of the Registrar of Companies and business names act and regulations as a private limited company by guarantee. To that effect, a certificate of incorporation number 79508, dated 15th July 2009 was procured.

We have no objection with the Zambian Chess Foundation application as a Chess Academy

CHESS FEDERATION OF ZAMBIA

Ericho Nshikokola - CFZ PRESIDENT

Cc: CFZ Secretary General

1. INTRODUCTION

The Zambian Chess Foundation (ZCF) is a newly formed non profit making organisation which aims at teaching, developing and promoting chess in schools and vulnerable children.

Chess is an emerging popular game for all ages, race and sex in Zambia but over the years very little has been done in terms of teaching, developing and promoting chess in schools and vulnerable children.

Hence to facilitate chess promotion and development in schools and among the vulnerable children, the Zambian Chess Foundation was duly incorporated pursuant to and in accordance with the provisions of the Registrar of Companies and business names act and regulations as a private limited company by guarantee. To that effect, a certificate of incorporation number 79508, dated 15th July 2009 was procured.

- iii) Explore and exploit the potential of young ones to participate in international events and other local activities in general

SPECIFIC OBJECTIVES AND MEASURES

SPORTS EQUIPMENT

Provision of adequate chess equipment is cardinal to schools chess development. To promote the provision of modern and affordable chess equipment.

(b) Measures

- i. Facilitate the acquisition of modern chess equipment.

SPORT TRAINING

Sport training is an integral part of schools chess development in Zambia. These programmes shall include Sport training of athletes, coaches, teachers, administrators, and technical officials in urban and rural areas including people with disabilities, youth and women. It is equally crucial that these individuals recognize that an essential and central part of successful promotion and development of their sport is the instilling of a sense of fair play in all participants.

The Foundation shall ensure that all chess schools personnel; administrators, leaders, officials' managers, coaches are appropriately trained and qualified by the national sports accreditation scheme to deliver a quality service.

INCLUSIVENESS OF PEOPLE WITH DISABILITY IN CHESS

People with disability have not fully participated in sport due to a number of factors which include lack of user friendly sports facilities, equipment, funding and specific policies targeting their involvement in sport. Consequently, this has led to rejection, isolation and discrimination hindering their psychological and emotional development.

The Foundation shall endeavor to eliminate discrimination and stigma against people with disability in chess so that they fully participate. The Foundation shall also advocate for provision of user friendly, chess facilities and equipment.

a) Objective

To promote the participation of people with disabilities in chess.

The Foundation shall endeavor to use chess as a tool to create awareness to mitigate the impact of HIV and AIDS infections and reduce its prevalence among sportsmen and women.

a) Objective

To mainstream the HIV and AIDS programmes in all sporting activities

WHY SCHOOLS SHOULD TEACH CHESS TO LEARNERS

1. Chess is a game for people of all ages. You can learn to play at any age and in chess, unlike in many other sports, you don't even have to retire. Age is no factor also when you settle down to playing an opponent. You can play against the old and the old can play the young!
2. Chess improves memory. Chess theory is complicated and to be good at it you will need to memorize some openings and remember the tree and its branches of variations. You will also need to recognize the patterns as it transposes to the next opening trees
3. Chess improves concentration. During the game you are focused on only one main goal - to checkmate your opponent and emerge the winner!
4. Chess develops logical thinking. Chess requires some understanding of logical approach from both short-term (tactical) and long-term (strategic) objectives.
5. Chess develops attention. In many cases during games between children and amateurs, attention to details at all times for long spells leads to rewards. Paying no attention you immediately miss out.
6. Chess promotes imagination. Since you will need to think ahead, the future of your action must be composed. Visualization, end-results and anticipation make a good player.
7. Chess manifests creativity. While memory and rote learning will get you far, survival in a myriad of possibilities and new ways require your own inventiveness if you are to survive. You will enjoy being creative as you escape a sticky situation.

8. Chess requires that you be cunning. Given many real life dramatic challenges, you find some trickery helpful whether it's to decoy the opponent or gambit a pawn for an ulterior motive.
9. Chess teaches independence. You are forced to make important decisions influenced by your own judgment. In some cases they impact on personal score, for the team or for the country.
10. Chess inspires self-motivation. It encourages the search for the best move, the best plan, and the most beautiful combination out of an endless litany of possibilities. It encourages the everlasting pursuit towards progress, never dull; highly fun, but covertly and overtly educational.
11. Fantasy versus Reality. Those who are intelligent juggle the two concepts with expert comprehension. The OBE insists that these be taught at elementary level with application. Chess is a classical example that matures the mind to understand movies and TV stories for what they are, entertainment.
12. Chess and science. Like science, in chess you will need to hypothesize. A scientific way of thinking will be needed as you generate numerous variations in your mind. You then will explore each possibility, contrasting new versus established ideas. Predict their outcomes and interpret surprising revelations in this abstract view. Test it or sometimes consider taking it as a risk/chance.
13. Chess and technology. What is involved in the quiet thinking mind of a chess player? Like a computer, the brain is taking in information process it and given the many options and choices, a process of elimination triggers in. The brain they say is a computer; well there is the proof. From this, man invented computer-playing machines.
14. Chess and Art. Chess is a beautiful and artistic. In many chess columns of newspapers artistic picturesque chess puzzles appear. These juggle the mind bringing joy to the engaged party. These are mostly developed for that amusement value and have no sequential link to chess. They are called studies or quizzes.

15. Chess and culture. The fact that you can play chess with a total stranger even without understanding their neither language nor culture proves that it fosters social interaction that leads to tolerance and understanding. In Russia chess is a culture, it is a way of life. In Zambia they're two distinct sporting culture cricket is followed and played by largely the Asian people and by the same token football by blacks.
16. Chess demonstrates that hard work is rewarded. The more you study and practice, the better you become. You will be ready to learn from your mistakes. The Cuban Grandmaster Raul Casablanca, who was world chess champion once said: " You may learn more from a lost game than the one you win, that's life"
17. Chess is mental gymnastics. The more you lift weights, the more muscles you develop. Similarly, the more you play chess the more you grow dendrites. Dendrites are the muscles in your brain so said Tony Buzan, author and educational brain specialist from the UK.
18. Chess is life. Mistakes are punishable and lead to a loss and good skill and all its virtues are rewarded. Think ahead, predict and foresee the consequences of your actions. Chess teaches you to look both ways before you cross the street.

Chess is a game of imagination and strategy, one that provides rules, order and opportunities for intellectual growth. An effective educational tool at all levels of academic achievement, chess teaches students to think logically and take responsibility for their actions and consequences.

MARKETING PLAN

Chess academy business is a newly emerging venture with very little competitors in Zambia hence the Zambian Chess Foundation will concentrate very much in targeting government, private schools and the vulnerable as strategic business ratio segments by developing specific products best suited with demand patterns prevailing in all these institutions.

MARKET SEGMENT

Chess game is not aggregate hence the need to adopt a product mix in which Zambian Chess Foundation will segment the market into three categories learners, non learners and advanced learners

MARKET STRATEGIES

The Foundation will employ a multi-media penetration marketing strategy in which massive publicity and advertising using print media and electronic media will be used to disseminate product awareness and availability to the target market further using latest art technology. The foundation will also launch a website where its products and services can be easily accessed on the internet. The foundation will also partner with NGO's working in various activities such as HIV and AIDS mitigation as a tool to facilitate the work of NGO/s outlined above.

The foundation shall further promote equal access to better education through provision of educational scholarships to deserving chess players as one way of promoting the sport in schools.

As a long term penetration strategy, the foundation will open permanent chess centre's in major provincial centre's fully equipped with latest art of training sports equipment and well skilled coaching staff.

For the Hall of Fame, the three first coaches/trainers/captains will be accepted.

Eligibility

Coaches/trainers/captains owners of the FIDE titles (licenced) of FIDE Senior Trainer (FST) and FIDE Trainer (FT) can be nominated. In exceptional cases other FIDE titles (FI-NI-DI - licenced) can be considered and nominated, by TRG's decision. For the Hall of Fame any FIDE-TRG Title is accepted. Furthermore, older coaches/trainers/captains without FIDE title can be accepted.

Experts' Panel

An Experts' Panel consisting of seven (7) members, with reputation and knowledge in the field of training, will decide the results. TRG reserves the right to replace a member due to force majeure reasons. The Experts' Panel will be as following:

Experts' Panel of the FIDE Trainer Awards 2017

1. Nigel Freeman (Bermuda) - FIDE Executive Director (Chairman)
2. Israel Gelfer (Israel) - FIDE Vice-President
3. Kurt Jungwirth (Austria) - FIDE Honorary Vice-President
4. Uwe Boensch (Germany) - GM/FST * TRG Councillor
5. Jovan Petronic (Serbia) - IM/FST * TRG Councillor

Voting Procedures

Each member of the Experts' Panel will vote for each of the six Medal categories and the Hall of Fame separately. He/she will have the right to vote for three persons, giving three (3), two (2) and one (1) point respectively. In case of a points' tie, the tie-break will be the most personal votes (0-7). In case again of a tie for the first place, two or more winners will be announced equal first.

The voting procedure will take place between May 6th to June 15th, 2018 and the results will be officially announced immediately. Ratification by the coming FIDE Congress will verify.

Nominations can be made by FIDE officials, TRG and Federations. For the Boleslavsky Medal, book publishers and chess software developers as well, are invited to make nominations in this specific Medal category. Prizes will be announced together with the results. Chess Publishers or any sponsor, who is interest on the subject, can offer his views and sponsoring to TRG.

TRG will chose the most important five (5) nominations for the six (6) Medal categories and up to ten (10) for the Hall of Fame to be considered by the Experts' Panel.

FIDE Trainers' Commission (TRG)

14.09.2017

Attention: State Secretary Miss Janica Kostelic
Central State Office for Sport
Savska Cesta 28, 10 000 Zagreb, Croatia

Subject: FIDE-TRG Trainer Titles

Dear Miss Kostelic,

We are addressing you on behalf of FIDE (World Chess Federation) Trainers' Commission regarding the problem with nistrification of the FIDE trainers' diplomas & titles in Croatia.

Chess in Croatia has rich and long tradition (even in the Cote of arms there is a chess board!) with many great results. Those results were connected with good players, but also with experienced trainers.

Long time ago FIDE has established an international Trainers' System which is recognised in a vast number of countries around the world. Some of the titles' seminars where even organised in Croatia recently.

Unfortunately we have been informed that FIDE trainers' diplomas & titles are not recognised in Croatia and that well-known trainers cannot coach/train with young players which will stop their progress and the development of youth in Croatia in general.

We kindly ask you to reconsider the decision of FIDE trainers' diplomas & titles nistrification.

With kind regards,

The Chairman
Adrian Mikhalchishin

The Secretary
Efstratios Grivas
