

Dear members of Presidential Board,

The second proposal is as follows:

Today there are many people around the world they say that they are manager of professional players. But unfortunately many of them they do not have any idea about all rules of chess or they are not qualified to communicate to make this job in a minimum level properly. Our players are certainly suffered from this and also there are bad examples on this issue that some of those people calling themselves as manager exploiting the carrier and rights of our eminent players due to their lack of professionalism.

Like in football and other sports, it is time to define this function under FIDE regulations and make a certificate after an exam like arbiters, organisers, or trainers.

There we propose as follows:

Proposal:

Executive Board in Khalkidi decided that there is a huge need to describe the job of a manager for a professional player. By the 1st January 2011 a person to claim that he is a manager should get the certification by FIDE. To describe the rules and procedure, Development commission is charged with this duty. Development commission will work and describe the all regulations respectful to EB decision on this duty and in the first presidential board in 2010 it will be finalised and declared.

Best regards,

Ali Nihat YAZICI
President of TCF
Vice President of FIDE
