Nomination Procedure for Commissions in 2010 Congress

FIDE Statutes 0.4 Electoral Regulations states:

“No person can be elected to a FIDE-office against the will of his national federation. This stipulation may be waived by the General Assembly only in exceptional cases. Federations that are against the nomination of one of their members for a FIDE office should raise their objections to such a nomination before the election.

“Clarifications made by the Executive Board in Dresden:

· A Federation is entitled to nominate only one candidate for one position.”

As an administrative procedure, therefore, nominations should be announced in order for national federations to be informed beforehand. When nominations are made for Commission members, it should be in consultation with the national federation.
